Handwritten text at the top of the page, including the name "Herath" and "Raj R. S. P."

Second section of handwritten text, appearing as a separate entry or paragraph.

Third section of handwritten text, continuing the narrative or list.

Fourth section of handwritten text, showing a distinct change in the writing style or content.

Final section of handwritten text at the bottom of the page, including a signature or name.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is dense and covers most of the page. It appears to be a formal communication, possibly a petition or a report, given the structure and the use of certain phrases. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.

Vertical handwritten text on the left margin, possibly a date or a reference. It is written in the same cursive script as the main text. The text is somewhat faded and difficult to read, but it seems to contain specific information related to the document's context.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, including a signature and possibly a date or a reference. The signature is large and stylized, characteristic of the period. Below it, there is more text, which could be a date or a reference to another document. The overall appearance is that of a formal closing or a postscript.
